REPAIRED ORGAN IS TO BE HEARD ON WEDNESDAY

It was in 1891 that the first pipe organ was installed in Ogden when the Farand and Votey pipe organ was built in the First Methodist Episcopal church. For some years this was the only pipe organ in the city. The congregation always has treasured it highly; not only for this reason, but also because it was really an excellent instrument. However, with the passage of years, various parts got out of order and no one was found who was able to properly repair them, so that many sets of pipes were really unusable. However Mr. Edwards, a master organ builder, was secured to thoroughly repair the instrument, tune it and voice it which he did with the assistance of Sam Whitaker. The whole organ has again been put into service and beautifully voiced, and an electric blower installed by the Western Foundry.

The organist, Miss Vera Frey, is taking especial delight in bringing forth beautiful music from this rejuvenated instrument. So she has arranged for a concert to be given in the First Methodist Episcopal church this Wednesday evening, at 8 p. m., with the assistance of other musical artists.

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT OF LOCAL SHOPS OF S. P.

David Hickey Here to Take Charge Tomorrow Morning—Clerks Are Coming From Sparks—E. H. Pope, Division Storekeeper, and T. D. La Masters, Car Foreman, Arrive.

The Southern Pacific shops at Ogden, which have been under the control of the Oregon Short Line for the past seven years, with D. J. Malone as master mechanic, will be turned over to David Hickey, division master mechanic of the Southern Pacific, tomorrow morning.

Today the properties that will pass into the control of the Southern Pacific are being inspected and checked up by a party of prominent officials of the Southern Pacific and the Oregon Short Line.

The Southern Pacific officials arrived in Ogden at 7 p. m. yesterday and in the party were T. W. Heintzelman, general superintendent of motive power of San Francisco; T. W. Younger, general superintendent of motive power at Sacramento; H. G. Cook, general storekeeper at San Francisco; T. F. Rowlands, superintendent of the Utah-Nevada division and David Hickey, the new master mechanic. These officials passed the night here in resting up preparatory to the work of making the transfer and they were joined by A. C. Hinchey, superintendent of motive power for the Oregon Short Line.

Mr. Hickey, who will now make his residence in Ogden, was employed here under the regime of the Union Pacific system seven years ago, as general foreman under Master Mechanic E. M. Luckner. While his headquarters have been at Sparks, Nevada, his frequent trips here have kept him acquainted with many of the older employees of the department, over which he will now have control.

In speaking this morning of the changes to be made in the clerical force at the shops, Mr. Hickey said that he would bring the six members of his clerical force from Sparks and that E. H. Pope, the division storekeeper, will bring eight of his clerks. The others that are needed will be recruited from those who are at present in the local office. Mr. Pope was also in Ogden today and it is expected that he will take over the office of R. L. Higgs, the division storekeeper of the Oregon Short Line.

T. D. La Masters, general car foreman, who also came with the official party yesterday, will probably assume the position now occupied by Mr. Cosgrove of the Oregon Short Line.

It is thought that the clerks that have been employed in the office of Master Mechanic Malone, who are not taken care of under the new management, will be transferred to other points on the Oregon Short Line.

ELKS OF STATE MEET AND ARE ADDRESSED BY J. C. CULLEY

According to the local "Purple day" committee, there is good shooting at Lagoon today as upwards of 1500 Elks were expected to pass the day gambling in the popular Davis county park. A large number of the Ogden "herd" went out on the early Bamberger trains this morning, among them being the 50 delegates to the state convention which opened at noon.

The state convention was one of the primary purposes of the "Purple day" celebration and 175 delegates from the five lodges in the state were present. The representation is 50 from Salt Lake City, 50 from Ogden and 25 each from Eureka, Park City and Provo. This number was selected from approximately 1000 members of the Salt Lake lodge, 750 from the Ogden lodge, 225 from the Provo lodge, 200 from the Park City lodge, and 150 from the Eureka lodge. As there has been no state organization and hence no regular constitution, the delegates were appointed, but in the future they will be elected in the regular manner.

The meeting was called to order by John C. Culley of Ogden lodge No. 719 and, in his address, he explained the purpose of the gathering. In part, he said:

"Dear Brothers: We are here assembled for the express purpose of forming a state organization of Elks. The need for such an organization is getting greater each year. I presume that most of you who are here as delegates know many reasons why this organization is a necessity, but to those who are not familiar with the reasons, I will explain just a few.

"The B. P. O. Elks today numbers over 1250 lodges extending from Alaska on the north to the Panama zone on the south, from Portland in the east to Portland in the west, and on across the Pacific to Honolulu and the Philippines. There are over 450,000 members in good standing and every one an American citizen and with a property value of over $52,000,000.

"The charity extended without ostentation during the last ten years is almost $15,000,000. We are now building in Kentucky an Elks national home at a cost of over half a million dollars. This large and extremely progressive order demands an immense amount of business to run it.

"The general business of the order is transacted through a grand lodge which is composed of state exalted rulers, each lodge sending one representative each year generally in the person of its retiring exalted ruler. So you will see that the grand lodge is increasing at the rate of over 1300 new members yearly. These new members added to those who are already members of the grand lodge, make a body extremely difficult to govern, almost impossible to take care of the business of administration, very difficult indeed for the new representative, unused to the ways of the grand lodge, to accomplish any of the instructions delegated to him, and it is getting to be such an immense body that no city but the very largest can give them accommodations and afford to entertain them.

"The administration of this large body of men, with its vast property interests, with its immense amount of business to be transacted, is getting to be such a big proposition that in my humble opinion it will be but a short time when the work will have to be segregated and accomplished through state organizations.

"State organizations at present have no legislative powers and can have none except as may be conferred by the grand lodge. The very fact that large bodies of men banded together with a bond of fraternal brotherhood and existing within a state are denied legislative authority to govern themselves is one of the very best reasons why they should organize to secure such authority under a reasonable grant of power.

"The opportunity afforded to get acquainted with brother Elks from other parts of the state is one that cannot be over-estimated as a fraternal asset. At a state meeting, the members are put in touch one with another so that a community of sentiment is established which may effect all our interests more or less favorably.

"The general policies of the grand lodge may be discussed informally with a view to bringing about concert of action. For instance, a majority of the Utah lodges might be in favor of re-establishing the comedy element of the ritual, or again Utah might want representation in the grand officers of the lodge or we may favor certain legislation and a thousand other things, all of which may be informally discussed in these state meetings with a view of getting a unit of opinion and our delegates both from the state association and from the local lodges can be instructed accordingly, and, coming from a state as a unit, will surely make a decided impression on the grand lodge.

"Another and highly important service performed by state organizations is to train future representatives to the grand lodge to meet intelligently such situations as may arise in that body. This fact alone is worth the price of affiliation in a state organization."

THEODORE KYTKA CLAIM REJECTED

Yesterday afternoon the county board of commissioners rejected the claim of Theodore Kytka of San Francisco for expert witness fees, in the sum of $2500. As was stated in the Standard some time ago, the commissioners refused to pay the bill on the ground that there is no authority in law for the expenditure of public funds in that way.

It will be recalled that Mr. Kytka, who is an expert on handwriting, came from San Francisco to testify in the Joseph Henry Martin case, charging $50 a day for his services. It is said that there is no provision in the statutes for the payment of other than regular witness fees and mileage. Rejection of the claim may lead to litigation.

FORMER RESIDENT TO OPEN RACE COURSE AT HAVANA

H. D. Brown, former resident of Ogden but now of Los Angeles, son of Mrs. J. D. Abbott and brother of Mrs. John F. Smith of this city, was in Ogden yesterday visiting with his mother and sister and other relatives and friends. Mr. Brown was born in Ogden and resided here until he was about 20 years of age, since which time he has been engaged in race track business which has called him to various parts of the country.

He had visited Ogden only once in the past 20 years before he stopped off yesterday and he stated that it was with a great deal of pleasure that he noted the progress of the city. He was happy to meet his boyhood acquaintances and spend a few hours with them. His greatest pleasure, however, was the visit with his mother and sister. Ogden did not look to him much like it did 20 years ago, but there were some landmarks and faces that were familiar.

Mr. Brown is among the best known race track promoters, managers and starters in the United States and he has constantly followed the business from his earlier life. He has been official starter of races in nearly every country where racing is permitted and is likely better posted on the game than any other man. He owns a race course at Jacksonville, Fla., and is building a course at Havana, Cuba, that will cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. The Cuban government has given him concessions for thirty years.

MOUNTAIN FEUD BREAKS OUT ANEW

Paris, Ark., June 30.—The "huckleberry mountain feud," which has existed in this section of Arkansas for many years, was revived last night when Frank Rose, a mountaineer, shot and killed Hobart Horn and probably fatally wounded Chatham Sherill when, it is said, Horn and Sherill attacked the Rose home. FOUR POLITICAL MEETINGS HELD Idaho Republican, Democratic, Progressive and Socialist Conventions in Session.

Democrats Favor Home Rule Allowing Cities and Incorporated Towns to Decide Question.

Boise, Idaho, June 30.—Platform conventions of the four political parties recognized under the primary election law of Idaho, Republican, Democratic, Progressive and Socialist are being held here today.

Prohibition is the chief issue before each of the three leading parties. The Progressive will, it is practically certain, adopt a platform declaring for prohibition by legislative enactment and also the submission of constitutional amendment.

In the Democratic convention, chief interest centers in an effort to be made to obtain the adoption of a home rule plank giving cities and incorporated towns the right to decide the prohibition question for themselves.

The Republicans are said to be closely divided on the question.

TWO MORE EMPRESS VICTIMS FOUND

Rimouski, Quebec, June 30.—Two more bodies have been recovered by divers from the sunken hull of the steamship Empress of Ireland. One was the body of a man aged about 30, the other of a little girl about 7 years old.

Both bodies will be buried here. The Canadian Pacific railroad has purchased a plot of land near Father Point as a cemetery for unidentified dead that may hereafter be recovered.
